Course Description:

Basic concepts of computer security: Security related services: confidentiality, integrity, availability. Threats, security policies and security mechanisms. Cryptographic concepts and terminology. Secure design principles. Information flow and the confinement problem. Life cycle of a secure and trusted system. System evaluation criteria. Trojan horses, worms and viruses. Vulnerability analysis. System auditing. Intrusion detection.

Course Requirements:

Textbooks:

Security in Computing fifth edition,

Charles P. Pfleeger, Shari Lawrence Pfleeger and Jonathan Margulies,
Prentice Hall imprint, Pearson Education, Inc., 2015.

Course Overview:

Introduction to Computer Security: Fundamental Concepts

Primarily a systems perspective

- General cryptographic concepts introduced

Computer Security layers:

- Operating systems, malicious software, network security, browser security, physical security, security models, applications security
- Interdisciplinary aspects relating to computer security

Goals:

- Learning to build secure systems.
- Understanding different potential attacks and their impact

System Security Evaluation:

- Security Goals:
 - o What are they trying to achieve?
 - o What are they trying prevent and protect against?
- Threat model:
 - o Who is your adversary?
 - o Who is your attacker?
 - o What types of attacks might they use?
 - o What are their capabilities?
 - o What are their limits?
 - o What is in and out of scope?
- Are the security goals achieved?

Computer Security Model:

- Confidentiality, integrity and availability

Course Structure:

Homework:

There will be frequent assignments during the semester covering the topics discussed in class, from the textbook or on-line searches. There will be at least one longer assignment where the student will be expected to write a paper based on their research

Homework solutions must be legible; Difficult-to-read solutions may be marked off, or may not be graded entirely. Typing homework is recommended. No late homework accepted.

Exam:

There will be a midterm and a final exam. If an exam cannot be taken at the scheduled time, you are responsible for notifying the instructor before the exam is given. If you cannot reach the instructor, please leave a message with the CIS Department Secretary at 951-5657.

Class Grading:

Homework & Project	33%
Exams & Attendance & Participation	33%
Final Exam	34%

University Policy on Academic Integrity:

The faculty and administration of Brooklyn College support an environment free from cheating and plagiarism. Each student is responsible for being aware of what constitutes cheating and plagiarism and for avoiding both. The complete text of the CUNY Academic Integrity Policy and the Brooklyn College procedure for policy implementation can be found at www.brooklyn.cuny.edu/bc/policies. If a faculty member suspects a violation of academic integrity and, upon investigation, confirms that violation, or if the student admits the violation, the faculty member must report the violation.

Center for Student Disability Services:

In order to receive disability-related academic accommodations students must first be registered with the Center for Student Disability Services. Students who have a documented disability or suspect they may have a disability are invited to set up an appointment with the Director of the Center for Student Disability Services, Ms. Valerie Stewart-Lovell at (718)951-5538. If you have already registered with the Center for Student Disability Services, please provide your professor with the course accommodation form and discuss your specific accommodation with him/her.

Non-Attendance because of religious beliefs:

The New York State Education Law provides that no student shall be expelled or refused admission to an institution of higher education because he or she is unable to attend classes or participate in examinations or study or work requirements on any particular day or days because of religious beliefs. Students who are unable to attend classes on a particular day or days because of religious beliefs will be excused from any examination or study or work requirements. Students absent from class because of religious beliefs will be provided with equivalent opportunities to make up the work missed; no additional fees may be charged for this consideration.
